

Are You Protected?

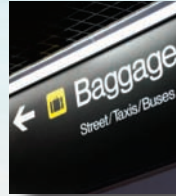

We strongly recommend that you purchase a Travelex travel protection plan to protect yourself and your trip investment. Now more than ever it is extremely important to protect yourself from the unexpected that can happen, such as:

Cancellations

A number of situations may cause you to call off your trip. Travelex has plans that provide a multitude of covered reasons that allow you to cancel or interrupt your trip without losing your travel investment.

Cancel for Any Reason coverage is also available with some plans for any additional reasons that may cause you to cancel your trip. From a death in the family, job loss or relationship breakup, Travelex has a plan to protect you and your travel investment.

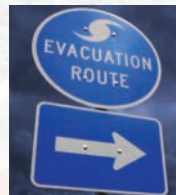

Delays

Any number of things may cause you to be delayed, resulting in unexpected expenses. Travelex offers plans with coverage for trip delay and baggage delay, providing reimbursement for unplanned hotel expenses, meals, clothing and local transportation costs. Some plans even offer trip cancellation & interruption coverage for unused portions of your trip, up to and including 100% of trip cost, if you miss over 50% of your trip due to the delay.

Medical Emergencies

Not all health insurance plans cover travelers abroad, and even domestic emergencies can be costly if out of the provider's network. All Travelex travel protection plans offer reimbursement for emergency medical expenses while traveling and will even provide evacuation to the nearest adequate hospital. In addition, coverage provided on most Travelex plans is primary with no deductibles; receive reimbursement from us first, before any other collectible insurance.

Inclement Weather

Hurricanes, floods and other inclement weather may keep you from your vacation. Most Travelex protection plans can prevent you from losing your travel investment by providing protection for events like traffic accidents while en route to your departure, your residence or destination becoming uninhabitable, or the shut down of all transportation services, causing you to miss your departure.
